THE MUSIC PROJECT is a visual interpretation of the universal language of music, a harmony of sound, design and science. It's the primitive art form that banded together Brooklyn-based industrial designer Todd Bracher, a team of software engineers, the sounds of musicians and the Shaw Contract Group Design Studio. Each product, like the music it reflects, is designed to have a relationship with the individual in a space. It fills a room, creates a mood and surrounds you. DESIGN IS SOUND.
